ABOUT

Through inspiring keynote presentations and lively panel discussions the Landscape Australia Conference will explore the dynamic role of landscape in the design, planning and management of gardens, cities and regions.

The keynote speakers will bring a diversity of professional experience to the conference and will discuss the role design can play in confronting the challenges of the coming century.

Part of an event-packed week in Sydney, the conference is co-located with the Australian Institute of Architects' National Architecture Conference and the Planning Institute of Australia's National Congress.

Landscape Australia Conference delegates will join Australia's built environment community for an immersive city-wide experience.
